Bryan Smith, 4th grade teacher at Bethlehem Elementary School, was recently recognized in Washington, DC, as one of the Presidential Award winners for New Hampshire in the areas of math and science. Bryan brings the outside world into his classroom through many engaging projects. The kids are inspired daily to learn by doing. Some of his classroom projects include the raising of trout eggs which are then released into the Ammonoosuc River, Stock Market studies, as well as partnerships with Plymouth State University. Congratulations, Bryan!
